Enclosed is the current draft version (J) of the copy for the PM USA website quitting module, following my review today with Jamie Prince. The changes we discussed are included in this version.

To Roger and Raymond, the you'll find relatively few changes from a few days ago in most sections, although there are some critical and substantive areas in section 4 (get medication) that we should probably focus on when we talk on Monday.

Thanks, and have a good weekend.

Stuart
